

Aluminium trays

DESCRIPTION

Aluminium foil trays are not only an ideal packaging for ready made meals but also can be used for technical applications. Aluminium trays are practical, light and hygienic; do not affect the quality of the packed food-stuffs, handling high temperatures during roasting and low temperatures during freezing. Aluminium foil is clean and odour-free and thanks to its decorativeness gives products a fresh appearance. Trays 4575 and 1550 can be complimented with lids from Al foil 10 µm laminated with 250 gsm paper.

For deliveries of any modifications of the products listed in our product specification please contact one of our Key Account Managers to discuss your individual needs.
